LEVL is pioneering a new frontier in fat loss - via a simple breath. And today we are thrilled to be announcing our much-anticipated introduction to the consumer market, LEVLhome. Consumers located in the Seattle area can now purchase the device and begin their journey toward wellness. Nationwide availability for LEVLhome will be announced later this spring.

Additionally, the LEVLpro device is now available to health and wellness professionals in the Seattle area and includes the LEVL device, LEVL app, and the LEVLpro dashboard, which helps track clients' data either at a facility or with the client's personal devices.

Finally, a way to know the impact of your nutrition and exercise choices before you ever step on the scale. Join the LEVL revolution.
