My Press Needs Forms New Service Division

TAMPA, Florida, February 1, 2017 – My Press Needs (MPN) has announced the formation of MPN Services, a new division focused solely on service and maintenance of its Crest Clamshells.

MPN Services will provide Crest owners preventive maintenance, emergency service and phone consultation through independent servicers nationwide. MPN’s John Stadler has been named director of the new division.

Assets of MPN’s previous service affiliate, My Service Needs, have been sold to David Mussi. A veteran clamshell service provider, Mussi has contracted with MPN to be lead technician for the new division.

“We’re extremely pleased to retain Dave as our primary service contractor,” said Stadler. “We want MPN Services to hit the ground running, and Dave’s knowledge of our customers, their Crests, and their needs will make sure we don’t miss a beat.”

“Our goal is to support our customers,” added MPN President Rob Weidhaas. “MPN Services will be focused on what we know best – our Crest Clamshell. We’ve put the infrastructure in place to handle and track service requests, distribute the work efficiently, and make sure it gets done right.”
